Major Robyn Hulan

Immediately following high school, I went to Royal Military College and graduated in 1997 with a Baccalaureate in Civil Engineering.

After graduating from the Canadian Forces School of Communications and Electronics as an Army Signals Officer, I was attached posted to Canadian Forces Base Petawawa. It was a short stay in Petawawa and in July 1998, I was posted to Canadian Forces Station Leitrim in Ottawa, as the Special Systems Officer.

In February 2000, I deployed to Bosnia for seven months. During my tour, I was responsible for the employment of electronic warfare assets in support of both Canadian and Multi-National operations.

Following my tour in Bosnia, I was selected to go on an Exchange Posting at the Naval Security Group Headquarters located just outside Washington, DC where I was in charge of 25 Canadian Forces personnel.

Upon my return to Canada, I was employed as the Administration Officer at the Canadian Forces Joint Signal Regiment in Kingston, Ontario where I was responsible for the administration of a 693 pers unit, the challenges and rewards were enormous.

After two years in this role, I was selected to be the first Officer Commanding the Regional Command South Signal Squadron in Afghanistan. The Signal Squadron is 113 pers strong and composed of soldiers from the United Kingdom, the Netherlands and Canada. Serving ten months in Afghanistan in a command position during this operational tour has indeed been the highlight of my career thus far.

Upon completion of my tour, I was selected to be the Executive Assistant to Lieutenant-General Lessard and continue to work with him at our Expeditionary Force Command Headquarters here in Ottawa.
